PESTILENCE AND DEATH

DEPOPULATING MEMPHIS,...THE FEVER SPREADING

The III-Fated City in Woe and Despair-The Entire Mississippi Valley Threatened.

MEMPHIS, July 22 .- The anxiety of citizens to leave this ill-fated city is daily increasing. Every train that departs is crowded, and hundreds have gone into the country. All sorts of vehicles have been pressed into service, and the roads leading from Memphis are filled with wagons carrying panicstricken people to places of safety. There were three hundred passengers aboard the steamer Coahomo, which left this evening for St. Louis. Nearly all of them had their passage paid by the city authorities, who are using every exertion to depopulate the city. Two physicians, Dr. Willett and Dr. Brown, were engaged to accompany the steamer to St. Louis. Main street already begins to assume a Sunday appearance. Nearly every prominent retail house has closed. By the end of the week none will be left in Memphis, except those who can't get away or those who remain in anticipation of receiving free rations. Perhaps a wooden box will be their share.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE. A young man named Landgan shot a part of his skull from the back of his herd, yesterday, in trying to commit suicide on Grego street. He tried to get his father and mother to leave town.
They refused, and he said he would rather be dead than risk yellow fever.
His injuries are not likely to prove

CROWDS AT THE DEPOT.

People crowd about the depot for twenty-four hours before being able to get on the train. Overcome with heat and fatigue, men, women and children sleep, closely huddled together, until aroused and told that the hour of their liberation is near at hand. A fresh train has been made up, and they pass out to the transfer station, which is also always crowded. Instead of waiting for trains to carry them thither, they go out by every conceivable conveyance, and by that means often take the places of those who have been forced to come out on the trains only to find that they have been deprived of a possibility of their early escape to a more healthy climate. Restive and combative under these circumstances, men grow desperate and fight like tigers, Revolvers are drawn in the most savage determina-tion, and bloodshed is only prevented by the interference of a strong guard. People are so closely sandwiched in the trains that the heat becomes intolerable, passengers get restive and almost easily accommodated to a knock down A general scramble for seats continues all along the various lines until the conductor gets rid of the jam by dropping them here, there and everywhere.

DEATH AND DISMAY

[Memphis Appeal-Editorial.] Let us look at the situation of affairs to-day in Memphis straight in the face. Let us look, it possible, beyond and inquire of the future what more of wreck or ruin it has in store for us. The present looks black, ugly and forbidding, made not so much by facts as by croakers. The future seems to be surrounded by a lurid hue that dominates the frightful vellow tint, the sign of horror, woe and sorrow. The yellow fever, the first case of which was announced on the ninth, now counts its 100th victim. It counts more. It count the present destruction of the trade and industries of the community, and threatens the property which represents the accumulations of the labor of the present and preceding generations. The yellow fever is in front us, but beyond it may easily be discerned the torch of the incendiary, revealing the starving thousands who to-day have no resource. Never was a city in so deplorable a condition. Most of her leading men are absent. Of all who under other circumstances would be foremost as leaders and advisers, but a few are now here to share the dangers and counsel the bewildered people

The city government is powerless and helpless, It cannot use one dollar of the money in its treasury for the purpose of contending with the fever or succoring the poor and needy, and it cannot levy a tax for that purpose, and if it could, could not collect it. As for the county government, it will take no thought concerning us, for if it did it would result in nothing. The State cannot contribute nothing for our benefit; what the Federal Government can do remains to be seen. Our condition is seemingly without any relief. The doctors are ready for work, and many of them are sanguine that they are to have plenty of it. We are in as bad a condition as if the sporadic cases had joined their forces to make an epidemic. Trade, until October, perhaps November, has been as effectually killed as if instead of sixteen we had sixteen hundred cases. Those who have left us under the spur of panic, most of those who remain have parted with that sense of security without which peace of mind or health is impossible. All along our lines of railroad the people are prepared to force quarantine, after their own fashion, regardless of the rules and regulations of the sanitary council of the Mississippi valley. They will cut off all intercourse. and save the State Board of Health the expense and the people the trouble of medical examinations and chemical fumigation. Already boats have refused to land at our wharf. In a few days, when the crazed have become crazier, and the idiots more idiotic, we shall perhaps, find ourselves hemmed in in a living hell, where to maintain order and respect for life and property will be found impossible save at the point of the bay-

MEMPHIS, July 23.—Thirteen new cases were reported to the Board of Health this morning. Among them are : J. L. Reister, wife and child, and ex-Chief-of-police Thomas W. O'Donnell. One death occurred-Mrs. Delia Barry—in Mosby street. The fever seems to be gradually spreading in the northern portion of the city and Chelsea, which, up to yesterday had been exempt. Michael Athy, brother of Chief-of-police Athy, was taken sick last night, and it is thought that he has the fever. Citizens continue to leave the city in large numbers. The authorities are still looking about for a site to establish a camp.

She accomplished her long journey without accident, and was kindly treated by the people living along the road. They supplied her with food and lodging, and cheered her on her way. A collection was taken up from these who heard the old lady' tale, and she was furnished with transportation to Chester. By this time she s with her children.

A Gloomy Outlook for Europe-Dam aged Crops---Financial Crisis---Agricultural Depression, etc.

N. Y. Herald's Cable Dispatches, July 22. Last night's storm greatly damaged fruit trees, crops and cut hay, and a great quantity of the latter is floating about the fields, which are flooded in terrible manner. There is little hope that any of it will be saved, because it is rotting rapidly. FLOODS IN THE NORTH.

At Belfast the streets are deeply flooded, and the low lying districts in Down and Antrim counties are under water, causing much destruction of property. The reports from Sheffield state that one of the severest storms ever experienced swept the town on Saturday and Sunday. The crops have been ruined by the storm and the agricultural outlook is everywhere very serious.

The Times' financial article says; "It was hoped that we were about to emerge from one of the wettest and dreariest seasons on record. The stock market opened on Saturday with a better tone, there being some sunshine in the early hours. Toward midday, however, rain began to fall again very heavily, and there was a return of the dullness which especially characterized the English railway market throughout the week. As the returns of wheat, hay and potatoes seem small, there is no doubt now but that the excessive rain and the absence of sunshine has done much damage, and the only hope now is that the deficiency may be minimized even yet by a little seasonable weather. ALL HOPE OF THE CROPS GONE.

THE EUROPEAN WHEAT CROP SHORT. "The prevailing opinion both in France and Germany is that the wheat crop will be short, both countries, hav-ing suffered from heavy rains. Southern Russia and America seem to be the only corn growing countries whence an abundant supply can be looked for With this outlook there can naturally be no improvement in the Manchester wool trade, which is as flat as ever, while in the metal districts things grow worse rather than better. It is no wonder, therefore, that money remains nearly useless throughout Europe."

THE JEWISH SARBATH.

Will it Ever be Changed from Saturday to Sunday? Philadelphia Becord.

To-day, after a lapse of nearly seven years, it reappears. Dr. Kohler, a Chicago rabbi, is the individual who again brings it into prominence. Dr. Kohler thought that his spiritual influence might be greatly increased if don't much to his congregation. some of them approved and the remainder objected. A split in the church was the result. Just after the crisis Dr. Kohler was invited to assume charge of Dr. Einborn's church, on Lexington a enue New York. He accepted the offer with the condition that he should be allowed to hold the Sunday services, which was accepted. Thus the movement was again started. The subject was ventilated at the recent Hebrew Conference in New York while a report on the better observance of the Sabbath was under onsideration. One of the delegates moved that the convention should place on record the fact that the seventh day of the week, commonly called Saturday, was and must always be the He-S bbath. This, however, was voted down on the ground, according to its opponents, that to adopt it would be o give a square recognition to the First day movement. A prominent Philadelphia rabbi, speaking on the subject, yesterday remarked: "The Jewish Sabbath is firmly imbedded in the hearts of the people, and there is .ittle fear that a change will ever be universally adopted. Yet it is a matter for regret that the Hebrews of this city do not more generally observe this day of rest. Many of our Hebrew storekeepers keep their stores open, while abroad and in most cities on this continent all Jewish place of business are closed on Saturday until sunset. So sensitive are our English coreligionists on this point that they have recently made a successful effort to induce the Stock Exchange to change the day for settling stock bal ances from Saturday to Friday. The objection to Sunday service lies in the fact that it would create a new departure which probably in the end would destroy our present Saturday observ-ances. A business man would say: As I can go to worship on Sunday, there is no reason why I should absent myself from business on Saturday. What he would do his family would be likely to do also, and so gradually the attendance on Saturday would away, and Sunday services take their place. The only way to prevent such a contingency is to discountenance the new departure.

Fenianism Blazing Up New York Sun. The hopes of the Fenian Brotherhood in this city have risen again in consequence of the agricultural distress in England and Ireland, partly through American rivalry in grain and cattle. They regard a reform of the land laws and a comparative impoverishment of the aristocracy as speedy results, and believe that an abolition of the expense of monarchy and the establishment of a republic will ensue. They view with satisfaction the heavy exense that the Zulu war is enfailing, as an additional element of discontent in England, and trust that it will be sufficiently prolonged to cripple the resources of the country. These subjects were discussed with animation in the secret meetings of the several lodges in Academy Hall and elsewhere last week. The Brotherhood are watching trans-Atlantic affairs with great interest, and their gatherings are invariably well attended. Mr. James Stephens, the ex-Fenian Head Center, has lately re-turned from a tour of several months through the Eastern States, and reports the Fenian clubs there as having large memberships, and as active and united. He will soon make a tour of the West.

A Double Suicide by Sisters-Evi-denses of Insanity. Cricago, July 22.—A distressing and mysterious double suicide occurred last night at Hyde Park, in the southern suburbs of this city. Three maiden sisters named Elizabeth, Anna and Nina Trowbridge, aged respectively forty-three, forty and thirty years, have been living for many years in good style in that town upon the revenues derived from the estate left them by their mother. Recently their father has succeeded in getting their entire property away and has left them penniless. When they became fully aware of this state of affairs they decided to die together, and passed Sunday and Monday in preparing for death. They nailed up the doors and windows and the two elder sisters, with the most careful preparation, drove spikes on either side of the casement of the folding doors, adjusted small hempen cords about their necks, and kicking frem beneath their feet books, piled on ottomans and chairs, quietly strangled to death. The younger sister, Nina, who is a dwarf, remained, in the meantime, in the upper chamber, and although the deed was done about six o'clock Monday, she first gave the warning at nine o'clock and the bodies were not cut down till midnight. It was with the greatest difficulty she could be induced to tell her story, and she told it in such a disconnected and raribling way that its accuracy is even now doubted. She is now in a state bordering on insanity. In her chamber was found a knife of a razor's sharpness and a slip of paper, on which was written, "We must nail up the doors."

Owing to the dry weather, breaks are comparatively light, and the competition of buyers is made the more active. Our quotations will show that Durham maintains its lead in these grades; while a scarcity in some of the markets for dark tobacco has given a marked stimulus to prices.— Of the growing crop the same well in-informed paper says: Of the growing crop we are compelled to look the fact in the face that the drought is a disas ter, the consequences of which cannot yet be measured. Under no circumstances can a crop of good tobacco be now made. The first planted is beyond control, having reached a stage of pre-mature maturity which no after rains can affect. The part of the crop planted after the dry weather set in has grown but little. If rains should fall within a week or ten days, this may grow off and a late fall may mature it; but it is conceded that the amount of fine to-bacco will be small. In this connection we will remark that the present pros-pect of the corn crop is nearly as dis-couraging as we have ever known, and a prolongation of drought will make 1879 a parallel with the fatal 1845, which every farmer recalls with shuddering

Killed Over the Card Table.

Wilmington Review. A friend and subscriber at Old Fort sends us the particulars of a homicide which occurred in that quiet little town on last Saturday night. It seems that a party of four or five persons engaged in a game of cards in the open air at a place just below the village and by the side of the creek when two of them, Emanuel Rose and William Rogers got into a dispute over the cards, which broke up the game. The party then started for the village, the two continuing their quarrel, and when within a short distance of the depot Rogers short distance of the depot Rogers dared Rose to come to him and fight it out fair. A few blows passed between the two when Rogers fell, to the earth and died in a few minutes. An examination showed that he had been fearfully cut in three different places on his left side, about five inches long and through to the hollow, one in the pit of the stomach, and the third just below and under the arm pit—either of which might prove fatal. Rose at tempted to escape, but was caught and is now confined in jail awaiting his trial for murder.

Baby Becomes Fashionable.

Forney's Progress, Paris Letter. Paris just now is a la mode de babie In dress everything is baby—baby hats, baby corseges, eic. Of course, it is an old fashion, for nothing is new. At the beginning of the present century we fashion for a Parisienne, even though she had entered the forties, to herself a l'enfant. It was said, "her hair must be cut a l'enfant. her slippers the same; but as it is difficult to have waist a l'enfant the great art lies in the cestus, which is generally a white riband knotted negligently behind. A femme de chambre who is skilled in the art and mystery of tying this knot is invaluable. The first question which an elegante asks a femme de chambre who presents herself for hire is "savesroue habiller a l'enfant?"

The Fastest Mile to Wagon on Record New York Berald.

Edwin Forrest vesterday afternoon trotted the fastest mile that has ever been made to wagon. The first quarter was made in 33‡ seconds, the half-mile in 1.07%, the three quarters in 1.41 and the full mile in 2.151. The horse trotted on Mr. Bonner's private track, near Tarrytown, in the presence of several well-known gentlemen from New York. He was driven by his owner, Mr. Bonner.

The Unparalleled Feat of Edwin Forrest.

Mr. Robert Bonner again comes indisputably to the front in the line of swift trotting. The sun never before shone on such a heat as he drove on his own exercising track, at his farm near Tarrytown last Saturday-2:151 to wagon, on a three-quarter mile track, with Mr. Bonner's weight, which is 190 pounds or a little over. The heat was driven without a break. It is safe to say that $150,000 would not

One of the most used words during the great rebellion, and one which had its origin at about the time of the Bull Run defeat, was "skedaddle." Some bogus philologists tried to trace its origin from the Greek. But this was conditionally in the sample of the Bull this was simple from the Greek.

THE ZULU WAR

LORD CHELMSFORD RECOVERING HIS LOST PRESTIGE.

The Zulus Attack the English Forces and Sustain a Defeat-Hundre Left on the Field in the Flight.

LONDON, July 23.-The Globe and Echo this afternoon publish a statement that the government has received a telegram from Sir Bartle Frere, appound ing Lord Chelmsford defeating the Zulus, under King Cetewayo, with immense loss, and that the war is virtually over. The newspapers in publishing the statement, do not say whether the telegram came by way of Madera or St. Vincent.

LONDON, July 23.-In the House of Commons this afternoon, Sir Michael Hicks Beach, Colonial Secretary, announced the receipt of a telegram dated Capetown, July 8th, confirming news of the decisive victory gained by Lord Chelmsford's forces over, the Zulus, virtually ending the war, as given by the Globe and Echo. Lord Chelmsford remained in camp till the atternoon of July 3d awaiting the surrender of cannon and thousands of rifles cartured by Zulus at Isandula. These not arriving he advanced, and was attacked in the open country by fifteen thousand Zulus, who fied under the heavy fire of the British. Lord Chelmsford then advanced to and destroyed Ulundi. Zulu loss eight hundred. The British lost ten killed and fifty-three wounded. A battle was tought July 4th, the Zulus. variously estimated at from 16,000 to 20,000 in number, surrounded the British troops, who formed into a hollow square. The Zulus charged the square on all four sides. After the Zulus square on all four sides. After the Zulus were broken by the British fire they were pursued by cavalry and artillery and routed. Lord Chelmsford burned and destroyed all military kraals and returned to his camp the same evening.

Lord Chelmsford continues: The force reached an excellent position, between Eanadaengo and Utundi, about 8:30 a. m. The Zulu army had been observed leaving its bivousce about observed leaving its bivouacs about observed leaving its bivouace about 7:30. An engagement was shortly commenced by mounted men. By 9 o'clock the Zulu attack was fully developed. By 9:30 the enemy waved a red flag and the lancers followed by the remainder of the cavalry attacked them, and a general rout ensued. The prisoners state that King Cetewayo was personally commanding and witnessed the ally commanding and witnessed the fight from a neighboring kraal. They say that twenty thousand men participated in the attack. Lord Chelmsford estimates the Zulu loss not less than a thousand men. Ulundi was burning at noon. The steadiness of our troops, who at one time were surrounded by a complete belt of fire, was remarkable. The dash and enterprise of the cavalry was all that could be wished.

A Youthful Lightning Calculator. A wonderful precocious lightning calculator is Charlie, the ten-year old son of Colonel Fuller, Bangor's expostmaster. He is almost infallible on "figgers," although he has never had a mathematical education. Whose with hardly a moment's conputation the day of the week on which the dead person was born. Other mental gymnastics are as readily performed in the youth's head, and the most difficult fractions have no terrors for him. The other morning he amused himself by mastering the multiplication table be-fore breakfast. He is thoroughly posted on the Bible and can give the names of all the books in their order, tell the number of chapters in each book and the number of verses in each chapter and instantly locate any particular event of biblical history. He is just as familiar with all the hymn books and their hymns. Recently the correction of an almanac formed his recreation, and now he is swallowing a large unabridged dictionary by the page, the performance giving him intense de-light, though his friends have fears of being talked to death when his feast is finished. With his wonderful finished. With his wonderful powers Willie is by no means a hot-house cherub; for his health is good and his strength increases daily. He plays lit-tle with other boys, however, and he does not take much pleasure in anything but mental exercise.

Sermon Through The Telephone. Last week No. 156 Freemason street and Christ church were connected by the Bell Telephone for the benefit of a lady who has not been able to talk for eighteen years, and who had not heard a sermon, until Sunday, for sixteen years. Quite a large number of the friends of the invalid assembled in her apartment, and their account of the service, as related to us, is very graphic. The rustling of the dresses ladies of the congregation passed up the aisles and took their seats was distinctly heard, as were the service and sermon by the officiating clergy-man, the Rev. Mr. Shields. It is need-less to say that the invalid lady greatly enjoyed both the morning and night services, and freely expressed herself as greatly comforted by the same in affliction. How great a blessing was the telephone even in this instance. the telephone even in this instance. Quite a number of gentlemen as-sembled at the central office to hear the morning service at Christ church, and we hope that all of them, irrespective of creed, were greatly benefited. They at least heard the preached word, which was quite a rarity.

The Minnesota Wheat Crop. The winter wheat harvest has opened The winter wheat harvest has opened in Minnesota a week earlier than usual, and the grain is in average condition. It is presumed that spring wheat will be advanced in the same proportion, and that the cutting will begin in about a week. Official figures from forty-two counties comprising two thirds of the counties, comprising two-thirds of the wheat acreage of the State, show an increase of the wheat breadth of 271,876 acres, which ratio, applied to the total area, will make an additional wheat area of 436,000 acres, and a grand total of 2,800,000 acres, which at an average of fifteen bushels for southern Minnesota, being two-thirds the wheat area, and seventeen for northern Minnesota, will give an aggregate of 43,866,000 bushels, and if the established annual average of seventeen bushels be justified, the result is 47,600,000. If prevailing reports be correct of light yields in the southern tier of counties and the discourage ing estimate of twelve bushels per acre be accepted as the average for southern Minnesota, it would reduce the aggregate about 40,000,000 bushels, but the probability is that this estimate is too

INFANT MORTALITY.

During the months of July, August and September mortality among children is greatest. It is the season when that dreaded cholera infantum rages like an epidemic, when on hundreds of doors in the poorer streets mute em blems of sorrow tell that death has passed the threshold. Newspapers do not discuss such topics for the mere love of having something to say, or from force of habit. And the man or woman who flings aside the paper when the eye lights on this topic with an "Iknow-all-that" impatience is little less than inhuman. Very inconsiderate at least. What can possibly concern mothers more than the thought that at this season of the year and in this torrid weather, with the nights hot, dry and exhausting, the life of their poor little ones hangs almost by a thread. Their delicate tissues, not yet hardened and indurated, are peculiarly susceptible to those subtle atmospheric influences which make no impression upon older persons. An increase of three or four degrees in temperature is registered at once in an excess of infant mortality. In New York city, where twelve per cent, of the population consists of children under five years, 481 per cent. of the total mortality of the city is among these tender infants. Of the total population one in every seventy dies within a year; of children under five years, one in every nine. These figures tell their own sad story.

No commentary can be so effective as the naked fact that in our cities nearly eight times more young children than grown persons die every year in proportion to numbers. The average in the heated season is more than twice as great as in the cold months. What adds most to the enormity of these figures is the indisputable fact that the deaths of three-fourths of these children are from preventible causes. Improper food, exposure to bad air, filth and sewengas, and bad nursing are the chief causes of this excessive mortality. Many a poor little infant sent out by careful parents to 'take the air' in its baby carriage has been literally done to death by the sun. A stream of heated air or sunshine pouring upon an infant's head in the present sort of weather is almost certain to result in serious disorder to the child, eausing brain fever, convulsions or cholera infantum. Unwholesome food is another common cause of the summer prostration of infants which is almost sure to end in death, unless country or sea air can be immediately provided. Nearly all infantile disorders express themselves in the form of intestinal derangement, and careless or ignorant parents are apt to neglect these until the injury becomes irreparable. Babies, too, are poisoned by sour milk, and by the injudicious utilization of drues, especially narcotics. greater immunity from these infantile diseases than those of the poor and wretched, beyond what security lies in better food, better care and better sleeping arrangements. Such persons, of course, can take their children off to the country or seashore, and so protect them; but, on the other hand, the children of the poor are nearly always nursed at the mother's breast, and thus secure a means of health and of immunity from summer diseases such as the children of the effeminate 'ladies of the day,' who do not or cannot nurse their own infants, never know. A large percentage of the deaths of infants might be prevented if young children were kept out of the sun at all times in this hot weather, given only the lightest and most easily digestible food, and clad so as to promote coolness and the freest use of every limb,

NORTH CAROLINA DEMOCRACY. A small split not larger than a man's hand when it's all trumps, but big with promise, may be seen with the naked eye in the Democratic party in North Carolina.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Deluded newspaper! The Commercitl is printed in Circinnati. Cincinnati is in Ohio. If all the reports are true there is a little excitement in Ohio over the approaching gubernatorial election in that State. If it is the purpose of the Commercial to deliberately and willfully misrepresent the North Carolina Democracy by way of encouraging Republican stragglers and malcontents in Ohio, why the Commercial is engaged in a naughty, partisan, disgraceful journalistic enterprise.

The Commercial is an intelligent newspaper, and at times manly and independent in its criticisms of parties

Published elsewhere than Cincinnati, under the shadow of the good deacon Smith, its veracity would be up to the average.

These considerations move us to remark-

(1.) That every joint in our armor is (2.) That the Democratic party in North Carolina will present a solid front and will be in the fore of the great battle for constitutional rights, FREE BALLOTS-FAIR ELECTIONS-HONEST JURIES 35 in 1880.

There is no "split" in the Democratic party in North Carolina. None is threatened. Heart-burnings there may be. Wranglings (among the politicians) there will be. These do not affect the great mass of Democratic voters in North Carolina.

Our danger is not in that direction. Local and sectional prejudices and dissensions will give way to patriotism and wisdom. Personal aspirations and ambitions will be subordinated to the good of the party. Our danger is in over-confidence in our own strength, and consequent disization. This is the hidden rock upon which the Democratic ship may go down. The danger signals are out and they will be kept brightly barning while the NEWS "plows the wasters." The Commercial will not understand by the little concern we manifest that we do not appreciate its disinterested admonition of our danger. If the Commercial can find the time, and it is perfectly agreeable and convenient, the NEWS will esteem it a great favor to have its reasons in the premises.

TRY A VACATION. This was intended for the editor's private eye, consequently the name of our esteemed friend is withheld: "I agree with your editorial observations in yesterday's News in regard to preachers, from a physical standpoint. But there are not a few able and useful preachers who are physically unable to ndergo such robust exercise as paddling a canoe or running horse races.

What would you de with them?" The NEWS would put their churches in the hands of the Y. M. C. A and give them, and their more robust contemporaties as well, a three months' vacation. Preachers, like editors, are the bardest worked and poorest paid of all public servants. They are like editors in another respect. They use other people's thoughts and pass them off as original. There is nothing wrong or reprehensible in this. Oftentimes, perchance, other people's thoughts are better than original ideas.

The preacher to preach successfully must have a clear head and good digestion. So must the successful editor who writes leaders for metropolitan journals. Drudgery and poor pay is incompatible with this high standard of excellence in preacher or editor. Preachers and editors are not unlike in the grave responsibilities of their respective callings. Pay your preachers liberally. Support your newspapers liberally. Elevate the pulpit and the press. And then, deo adjuvante, non timendum. Preachers need recreation. Like editors theirs is a tread-mill existence. The churches would be vastly benefitted by giving their pastors all the rest essential to a thorough recuperation of their vital energies. If every pastor in the city was given a carte blanche for one month, though it necessitated the closing of the churches. the Master's cause would be the gainer in the long run. This much, not obtrusively we hope, by way of acknowledgement to the friend who has honored us with his consideration.

THE Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier publishes a record of the rate of temperature in that city since 1638. It appears that for one hundred years previous to 1738 the thermometer never reached 98°. In 1752 it touched 101° but between that date and 1791 the flighest point reached was 97°. The low range continued till 1826 and 1829. when the mercury registered 100°. Nothing higher than 96° was then seen until 1871, when the temperature went up to 102°. On the 12th instant it was at 104°, the highest point ever attained

EVEN the canny Scots are suffering severely from American competition. The Edinburgh Scotsman says the extent to which American cheese has been brought into Ayrshire has ruined the market for home products, and the price of that commodity to less than half of last year's rates. The fresh milk supply is also greatly in excess of the demand. Serious results are anticipated for such farmers as have recently entered upon new leases.

A PROMINENT New York trunk line president says that within twenty years the railroad fare between New York and Chicago will not be more than $5, and may be as low as $1. He thinks the roads could make money at those rates now, if they had plenty of patronage. What the News has long contended for in regard to our local roads. This fact will some day burst upon the vision of our railroad managers, and their amazement will well-nigh overwhelin them.

Mr. J. H. HALYBURTON has purchased the Blue Ridge Blade, published at Morganton, and is now the editor of that hitherto well edited paper. The new editor is a bold and versatile writer and will not suffer the Blade to depreciate in interest.

YESTERDAY'S Charlotte Observer prints a two column editorial ridiculing Wilmington's pretensions and "the North Carolina system." It is a masterly piece of satire. State politics is incidentally discussed.

Tribulations of Lawyers and Doctors The world is never content to let either doctors or lawyers alone. There is a kind of instinctive distrust of them both in the universal heart, which is the peculiarity of no single age, but of all ages. It is always fair for the wit to sharpen his arrow when he draws the bow in front of either target, and the harder the hit the better people relish it. Voltaire, who lived on doses until the bitterness of the medicine lingering on his tongue gave its quality to his language, spoke of a medical man as "pouring drugs of which he knew little into bodies of which he knew less," and Thomas Moore, who belonged to a literary clique which would have been glad to note "the law's delay," but which always shook its head incredulously when the words were quoted, since it read lawyers' dunning letters from morn till dewy eye, avenged himself and his brethren by writing this epitaph:

Here lies John Shaw Attorney at law; And when he died The devil cried:--"Give us your paw, John Shaw, Attorney at law."

Alone. she stands beside the cottage door To watch the dying day, Her raven hair is sprinkled o'er

With flakes of silver gray; And many a line of sadness sears That pale yet lovely face, To mark where slow and silent tears Have left their lasting trace.

And still her whispered thought will tell Of scenes that are no more, And scan the once-loved forms that dwell On Memory's shadowy shore; Again the little cot to deck. That now so empty stands, Again to feel around her neck The touch of tiny hands.

Every man having others dependent gency. A small sum annually for what is termed "life insurance"—a form of expression that is misleading to some minds, for it is really an insurance quint a business emergency—will ake one's family secure. A man thus provided will be far less worried in sickness and his chances of recovery will be greatly increased. In this respect it is life insurance.

Having heard that a swindler is traveling through your States claiming to be my cousin, and imposing upon the sick by stating that he has purchased from me the right to manufacture "Nowitzikana, the Indian Tea," I deem it a duty to call your attention to the following facts: First-I have no relation engaged in selling medicine. Second—I have no idea who this scoun-

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879. -The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, Esq., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference ing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully, WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me, The case referred to in my ortificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, and the state and bearings of the chest breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, i.e. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WAD-bill, Proprietor Lynchburg News. For sale by Wm. Simpson, Pescud, Lee & Co., and F. H. Heartt, Raleigh, Cuticura Resolvent, a powerful Blood Purifier, is the only purifying agent which finds its way into the circulating fluid and thence through the oil and sweat glands to the surface of the skin, thus destroying the poisonous elements with which these vessels have been daily charged. Cuticura, The Great Skin Cure, applied externally, arrests all unnatural or morbid growth which cover the surface of the dis-eased glands and tubes with Scaly, Itching, eased glands and tubes with Scaly, Itching, and Irritating Humors, speedily it removes them, leaving the pores open, healthy, and free from diseased particles of matter.

Thus internally and externally do these great remedies act in conjunction, performing cures that have astonished the most noted physicians of the day.

Salt Rheum for 30 Years

On the Head, Face, and Greater Par of the Body, Cured. of the Body, Cured.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentleme, it I have been a great sufferer with Sa Rheum for 30 years, commencing in m head and face and extending over th greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of differenthinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to an article in the Union on skin diseases, and I got a box of Cuticura. The first application was a great relief and the third took the scales all off, and I felt like a new man. I have used three 50-cent boxes and my skin is smooth and I consider myself entirely cured. Hoping that this may be seen by some one afficted as I have been (if there is any) is my earnest wish. And I cheerfully recommend it to all persons afflicted with like diseases.

Yours truly,
